Dear Dr. Burleigh:

Do you have a Perry genealogy in your library. I am interested in tracing the family tree of my half brother & sister. They are the grandchildren of one —

Norman H. Perry, born about 1860-61, vicinity of Kingston. Parents names unknown.

Norman H. Perry married — Susan Cowdy COWDY (b. 1850-51)

Any help you can give me will be appreciated very much.

Sincerely
Howard Randall

P.S. The family name of LAVELL is also in their Perry line.

Trenton Optometrist Honored On 'This Is Your Life' Show

Dr. Ralph Bradley Aylsworth, optometrist, was honored on Friday night at the Trenton Country Club in a professional-like production of "This Is Your Life," based on the popular TV show of the same name.

"Alf Redwards" (Doug Bannon) unfolded the story of the principal subject's life — a story which members of the social committee have been tracing for more than five months. Throughout this entire period the identity of the principal subject was kept a closely guarded secret known only to the select few who were putting together the story of Dr. Aylsworth's life. He was the most surphised man in the house, particularly when his wife and son (a prominent Ontario lawyer) appeared on the scene.

Mrs. Aylsworth, a party to the scheme from the start, remained at home when the elderly gentleman left for the club, only to be picked up by a member of the social committee soon after his departure and whisked to the club where she was kept in hiding until the crucial moment. The son, who was supposed to be on a fishing trip in Northern Ontario, broke up his vacation and came to Trenton especially for the occasion, and quite unknown to the [illegible] who were completely su[illegible] at h[illegible]resence.

It was revealed that Dr. Aylsworth has a distinguished family tree which has been tracked back to England, to the days of William the Conqueror, some 900 years ago. The first Aylsworth to come to North America landed at Rhode Island in the year 1650. Later, Dr. Aylsworth's great grandfather came to Canada in 1785.

The principal subject was born in Collingwood, Ontario — a son of a doctor — a son of a destined to master two professions, attend two colleges, be honored by a life membership in at least two organizations, work in two countries and have two children.

Dr. Aylsworth first obtained a degree in pharmacy from the University of Toronto.

After graduation he worked in the United States and in the Canadian West. He met his wife, the former Laura MacIntyre of Charlottetown, P.E.I., while working in Calgary, Alta., and they were married. They had two children — a daughter Patricia (deceased) and a son Mac.

In 1917, Dr. Aylsworth went back to college and obtained a degree of Doctor of Optometry. Later, while serving as chairman of the Board of Directors of the Association of Optome[illegible]ists he was instrumental in [illegible] the first official School of Optometry in Ontario in 1925. For his work in this field he was voted a life membership in the Optometry Association.

He set up practice in Trenton in 1920 and was one of the original members of the Trenton Country Club when it was founded in 1921.

He first became president of the Trenton Golf Club in 1927, at which time he laid out the present course. He again became president in 1946. Under his direction and guidance the lawn bowling green and club house were built and the membership in the club was tripled.

At the annual meeting of the Trenton Country Club in 1953 he and Mrs. Aylsworth were presented with the life memberships in the club and he was elected an honorary president for life.

"People out of the past" of the guest of honor included, his wife Laura; his son Mac; R. M. Armstrong, a nephew of the founder of the golf club; L. A. Coward, local optometrist who has graduated from the school founded by Dr. Aylsworth; FS Jack Coutts, a great nephew of the first greenskeeper on the golf course; J. Roy Brown, who organized and expanded the lawn bowling section throughout the difficult early days, and F. J. "Pete" Aziz, who served on the board of directors of the T.C.C.

The show was played to an overflow audience which filled both the upper lounge, where he show was produced, and the ov[illegible]r lounge, where the program was carried on the public address system.

The show, a production of the ocial committee, was written and directed by Doug Bannon who was also MC. Program coordinator, responsible for technical arrangements and timing was Don Black. Announcing the hilarious commercials for "Flap Lipsticks Ltd." were Ron Cripps and Marjorie Oakes. Their outtanding performances stopped he show on several occasions. Fran Thompson was in charge of pecial arrangements including he purchase of the gifts. Hostess for "Flap Lipsticks" was Elsie Black.

Dr. A[illegible]sworth was presented with an engraved desk set and he story of his life in an attracively bound book — a feature of "This Is Your Life." Mrs. Aylsworth received a set of culured pearls. The couple were who for the rest of the year hold absolute and tight-lipped sway over the masses from whom these children spring, are able to forget their doctrine, their directives, their suspicions and their party line and relax—as Russians, even official Russians, above all other people know how—in the sheer delight of childish high spirits.

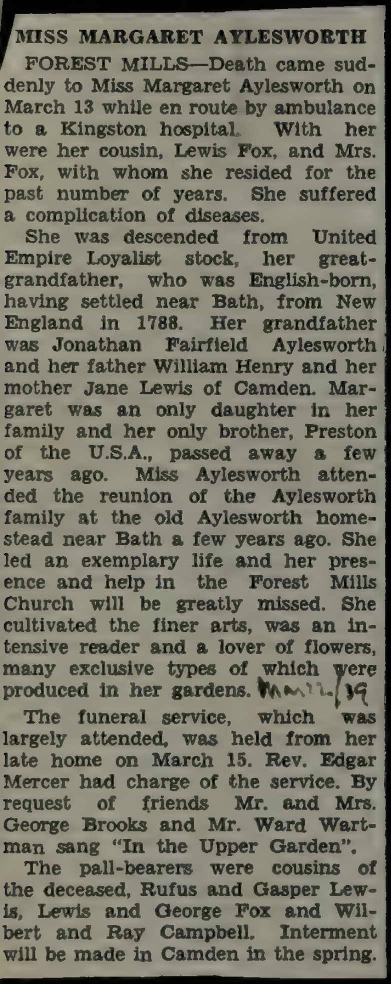
At these parties, beside the games, the dancing, the presents and the food, there is also carol singing. But the childish voices in their shrill, remote unison are not celebrating the birth of Christ; they are singing of Great Stalin or the riches of the Kolhoz from which, with the aid of Soviet science, all blessings spring.

How many of these children know the real meaning of Christmas? It is impossible to tell, but certainly more than one would expect. For although the official celebrations fall at the New Year, in tens of thousands of homes hroughout the great, unspeaking and the old traditional Christmas s not forgotten.

Wherever there are churches still functioning as churches (and hese are not as numerous as conducted tours of Moscow and the great cities lead Westerners to beieve) the Christmas services are celebrated with more than the old



MISS MARGARET AYLESWORTH

FOREST MILLS—Death came suddenly to Miss Margaret Aylesworth on March 13 while en route by ambulance to a Kingston hospital. With her were her cousin, Lewis Fox, and Mrs. Fox, with whom she resided for the past number of years. She suffered a complication of diseases.

She was descended from United Empire Loyalist stock, her great-grandfather, who was English-born, having settled near Bath, from New England in 1788. Her grandfather was Jonathan Fairfield Aylesworth and her father William Henry and her mother Jane Lewis of Camden. Margaret was an only daughter in her family and her only brother, Preston of the U.S.A., passed away a few years ago. Miss Aylesworth attended the reunion of the Aylesworth family at the old Aylesworth homestead near Bath a few years ago. She led an exemplary life and her presence and help in the Forest Mills Church will be greatly missed. She cultivated the finer arts, was an intensive reader and a lover of flowers, many exclusive types of which were produced in her gardens. Mar 22/39

The funeral service, which was largely attended, was held from her late home on March 15. Rev. Edgar Mercer had charge of the service. By request of friends Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks and Mr. Ward Wartman sang "In the Upper Garden".

The pall-bearers were cousins of the deceased, Rufus and Gasper Lewis, Lewis and George Fox and Wilbert and Ray Campbell. Interment will be made in Camden in the spring.

remarks Mr. Scovil congratulated th hockey team in bringing honor and distinction to their town by winning two cups and touched slightly on the history of hockey in Leeds County. More humorous than authentic perhaps, but nevertheless well received by the audience, judging from the applause that was raised as each anecdote was told. In closing the speaker thanked Earl Bolton, Geo. Creegan, "Bill" Gowdy who organized the team and Eric Waddell whose efforts made the banquet possible. As a result of their work the hockey boys have shown what the spirit of co-operation will achieve.

James Moriarity of Newboro, president of the hockey league proposed the toast to the hockey team. He commented on the fine sportsmanship shown by the boys, making them worthy of championship. He praised their coach, Harry O'Neill of Smiths Falls, and the veterans of the team Delorme Stevens, Jack and Sam Byington.

In response to Mr. Moriarity's tribute, Mr. Scovil called on Ernie Hanna, manager of the team, who on behalf of the hockey boys thanked the staunch supporters for their financial support as well as the keen spirit of enthusiasm displayed throughout the season.

J. C. Dowsett proposed a toast to the ladies. Mrs. Earl Bolton responded and expressed the hope that the hockey boys would feel more confident to face the difficulties in the battle of life, having experienced the ability to work together in the field of hockey with such success.

New Speaker of House A Native of Napanee

15 May 1963

NAPANEE — When the 26th parliament opens in Ottawa tomorrow, the new speaker of the house will be Alan Aylesworth MacNaughton who was born in Napanee 59 years ago.

Mr. MacNaughton attended public school in Napanee and later was a student at Upper Canada College. He studied at McGill University where he was enrolled in arts and law and did postgraduate study at the famed London School of Economics.

While at McGill he was captain of the rowing crew, winning the intercollegiate title and many other honors.

Mr. MacNaughton is married and has three children. He was first elected to parliament in 1949 and since that time has received climbing majorities over his opponents. He represents part of Westmount in Montreal where he practices law and has wide business interests.

While never spectacular as a politician, he is considered a sound thinker and a hard worker. Mr. MacNaughton was the first opposition member of parliament ever to serve as chairman of the Commons public accounts committee from 1958 to 1961.

MRS. STELLA ELIZA McQUADE

(Belleville-Trenton)

Ill only for a short time, Mrs. Stella Eliza McQuade, 525 Bridge Street East, Belleville died this Saturday morning in Belleville General Hospital. She was in her 77th year.

Daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. George Aylsworth, she was born at Collingwood and had lived in Trenton from 1914 until five months ago when she moved to this city. She was the wife of the late Dr. Ernest A. McQuade of Trenton, who died in March, 1953.

She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Trenton and was also a member and past worthy matron of Trenton Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, No. 118 Trenton.

She was active as a choir member and in the work of the Ladies' Guild, and was a member of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary in Trenton. She was a former member of the Trenton Board of Education at Trenton and a member of the Quinte branch of the United Empire Loyalists.

She is survived by one son, George of Belleville and a brother Dr. Ralph Aylsworth of Ottawa.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Chapel; the funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Insp. J. H. Needham of the provincial police said he left McCusker alone in the interrogation room Aug. 6 for 15 or 20 seconds. When he returned strip No. 24 was under the corner of a blotter although it had not been there before the interrogation started.

Strips No. 24 and 25 had been filed down. Tests by two locksmiths showed that by using No. 24 as a pick and No. 25 as a lever, an office desk at Marsland could be opened. A cash box containing $57 was missing from the particular desk after the slaying.

Police said they had also found a model of the same lock as on the desk in the pocket of a windbreaker at McCusker's room.

Three Charged With Murder

LITTLE CURRENT, Ont. (CP)—Two brothers and a juvenile were charged with non-capital murder Friday in the death of a 35-year-old man at Wikwemikong Indian reserve on Manitoulin Island.

Albert Roy, 26, his brother, Emerick, 19, and the juvenile were charged by provincial police after the death of Norman Simon during a drinking party. Cause of death was not immediately known.

Deaths And Funerals

ANDREW B. AYLESWORTH

The funeral of Andrew B. Aylesworth, 81, of 11 John street, who died on Sunday at Hotel Dieu Hospital, after an illness of four months, was held from W. Vernon Lindsay and Sons funeral home. Captain J. B. Wood of the Salvation Army conducted the service, assisted by Rev. A. A. Rigby.

Born in Odessa, the son of William Martin Aylesworth and the former Eliza Jane Burleigh, he had lived in Kingston for 26 years. He had lived in the United States for a few years prior to his return to Kingston. He was a gardener and had been retired for three years.

He attended the Salvation Army Citadel and was at one time a captain with the Salvation Army.

Mr. Aylesworth is survived by his wife, the former Luella Alport; four daughters, Mrs. Grace Marshall, Kingston; Mrs. Gertrude Moore, Greenock; Miss Glenna Aylesworth, Halifax, N.S.; and Mrs. Madelle Free, Wilton; one son, Arthur, of Kingston; two step-sons, Harry and Leroy Carroll, both of Kingston; a half-brother, George Aylesworth of Hamilton and a half-sister, Mrs. Sadie Todd, also of Hamilton. There are 29 grandchildren and 38 great-grandchildren.

Pall-bearers were grandsons Thomas Marshall, William Marshall, Philip Marshall, Donald Free, James Aylesworth and Stanley Aylesworth.

Interment was in Cataraqui Cemetery.

Gives Purse To Minister

LYNDHURST — A purse was presented Sunday by the parishioners of St. Luke's Anglican Church here to their rector, Rev. J. H. Schaffter, who preached his farewell sermon.

Mr. Schaffter, who has been rector of Leeds Rear for the past two years, is moving to Dorland. The subject of his sermon was the Lord's Prayer. The purse was presented, following a brief address by L. R. Brown, lay reader, by the church wardens, Harry Sheffield and H. T. Webster.

Mrs. Gyles Baxter, president of the Guild, presented a gift of money to Mr. Schaffter and family from that organization.

A purse and a blanket were presented at the morning service in St. Peter's, Seeleys Bay. Another gift of money, and colored sheets and pillow cases from the Guild, came at the service in St. John's, Leeds.

The St. Luke's service included the baptism of two children, Jennifer Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Galway and Margaret Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hudson.

Perry. — Aylsworth McCarthy

They were glad when a man from the United States, by the name of McCarthy, a lay preacher of the school of Whitfield, came among them. Robert Perry at once opened his house to him. Hannah was present when he was arrested, as stated in Playter's History of Methodism in Canada, in her father's house on the Sabbath day while preaching, by an armed man under the authority of certain military dignitaries, who did not intends that dissent should take root in Canadian soil. But how wondrously, by the prevalence of Presbyterianism and Methodism in Canada has the presentiment to which Mr. Perry gave utterance when he saw Mr. McCarthy put into a small boat and shoved off from the shore in charge of some soldiers after which he used to call "a mock trial," been fulfilled, though Mr. McCarthy's doom may never be known until the last day. "You may," said he, "banish, or drown, or burn McCarthy, but God will raise up a hundred from his ashes." . . .

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

I wish to thank you for your kindness in giving your time on Saturday evening last to my son Alan, and me. The information you furnished to us was most interesting and helpful. It has been my intention for some years to trace back the records of the Aylesworth family and you have given me a substantial start. I hope that it will be possible to check some further points with you in the not too distant future. In particular I have in mind the possible locations of the graves of Arthur, Job I and Job II.

Thanking you again, I am

Sincerely

Aylsworth Family Reunion
Bath, Ont.
10 Aug., 1929.

Meeting as above of descendants of Job Aylworth.

" The farm lot in Ernesttown on which Job Aylsworth settled in 1788, immediately adjoins the incorporated Village of Bath, and is a mile and a quarter distant from the Hall in which the meeting was ~~held~~ had.

More than a hundred members of the family and of family connections were present. A record of names was made, but some who attended did not register. The names recorded have since been arranged in family groups, according to seniority of descent from Job Aylworth, and are here printed.

Five of the twelve children of Job Aylworth died without ever having married.

Of two other daughters (Esther, Mrs. Robert Perry, Jr., and Catherine, Mrs. William Rogers) there were no descendants present. The names, and dates, of the remaining five sons and daughters of Job Aylworth are here shown:—

Job (1722-1803)
  Children
    Othniel (17 -1821)
    Job (1763-1847)
    Elsie 1772-1858) married John Bristol.
    Elizabeth (1774-1858) married Norris Brisco.
    Bowen (1778-1863]

Descendants of each one of these five children of Job Aylworth were present at the Reunion.

Aylsworth Family Reunion

Speeches

Sir Allen Aylesworth, on

Detail of the life of Job Aylworth, from family tradition and researches of Dr. Homer Aylesworth, printed in book form.

All by this name in U.S. & Canada descended from Arthur Aylworth — an Englishman, a Puritan & possibly a soldier of Cromwell. Emigrated about 1670 & settled in Rhode Id., on the western shore of Narragansett Bay.

The family home was in Gloucestershire, although no records show from whence he came or was born.

The head of Aylworth family, in 1670, was lord of the Manor of Aylworth, in the parish of Naunton upon Cotswold, in Gloucestershire, 12 miles east-northeast from Cheltenham, from which the family takes its name.

Manor consisted of 600 acres & is one of four manors making up the parish. Records of this Manor appear in Domesday Book (completed in 1086), spelled Ailewrde taken to mean Aylwin's worth or farm.

At the Conquest, in 1066, this land had been taken from the Saxon Aylwin and given to a Norman, Gilbert Fitz-Tyrrell, who in turn gave it to one of his Norman soldiers named Walter. This Walter is said to have afterwards married the daughter of Gilbert Tyrell. These are the ancestors of Aylworth family in England, U.S. & Canada.

The Aylworths continued to occupy the manor for 650 years, till, in 1718, Joshua Aylworth, the last Aylworth lord of the Manor, died & the lands were sold out of the family.

First record of the surname was in 1280, was an entry containing the name Hugo de Aylworth. In Fosbroke's Records of Gloucestershire is record of grant of land, before 1308, at Naunton, that had been made by "Sibilla de Ayleworth". There is also an entry in 1367 speaking of "Ralph, son of Richard de Ayleworth" — & in 1434 an entry recording the administering of an oath to "John Aylesworth," at Oxford, in England, in the county next adjoining Gloucestershire. There is also recorded in Dr. Homer's book, p. 22, quoting from Berry's County Genealogies, a note on the marriage (at about 1434) of "John Champneys, Esq., to Joanna, daughter of Sir Humphrey Aylworth of Aylworth, or Aylesworth, Co. Gloucester, Knight."

Arthur, the emigrant, spelled the name Aylworth. This spelling was continued by Job' & his wife, Sarah, Aylworth until their deaths in 1803. Their sons, Othniel and Bowen spell it the same at the time of Bowen's marriage in 1797. In 1793 Esther, daughter of Job', used the same spelling when she witnessed a marriage

The letter s appears to have been introduced in America by neighbors and others not of the family, and, seemingly, began to be prevalent about the time of the Revolution. Since then Aylsworth and Aylesworth have become the common way of spelling the name, although Benjamin, eldest son of Philip of Coventry, and brother of Sarah, wife of Job', resented the innovation, retaining the old spelling to the point that his descendants continue its use. This Benjamin moved to Virginia after the Revolution.

In Canada when Job^3, son of Bowen^2, was married, 1 Nov., 1825, Job^3 & his brother, John^3, used the Aylsworth, while their brother Robert used Aylesworth.

"The parish of Naunton upon Cotswold has an area of 3,106 acres, in a hill country, but is almost all good plough land. The Manor of Aylworth lies at the southwest of the parish and the Manor house is distant about one mile from the parish church. Within the walls of this ancient church building the remains of many of the Aylworth family lie buried. The north transept, and the Lady Chapel off the north aisle, built by Aylworth lords of the Manor, about the year 1500, were set apart as a place of burial for members of the family, and are said to be completely taken up by their graves. A history of the parish by Rev. Ernest F. Eales, sometime Rector of Naunton, is chiefly concerned with the Church and its Rectors, but devotes a few pages to the Aylworths as the only Manor overlords resident in the parish continuously from the Norman Conquest of 1066.

"Several histories of Gloucestershire give accounts more or less detailed of the parish of Naunton, with many references to the Manor of Aylworth and to the family of that name. Atkyns' Gloucestershire was first published in 1712, while Joshua Aylworth, the last Aylworth lord of the Manor, was living, and residing in the old Manor house. Later histories of the County, Rudder, 1779, Bigland, 1791, Rudge, 1803, and Fosbroke, 1807, contain also much that is of special interest to our family.

"There seems no reason for any doubt that Arthur

Aylworth, the emigrant, was of the English Aylworth family of Naunton. The exact identity in the spelling of his name and in the spelling of the Manor naime, would seem to show that fact conclusively. It is quite possible that Arthur was closely related to Joshua of Naunton. The two men were contemporaries, and very nearly of equal age. Rev. Mr. Eales thinks that Arthur was probably born at Naunton, but states (in a letter) that there is no entry of Arthur's birth or baptism to be found in the records of the Naunton Parish Church. He thinks this may be because at the date of Arthur's birth (which was, probably between 1640 and 1650) (note in ink in margin "it was in 1653") the times, in England, were so disturbed by the Civil War, and the Church records were not as carefully kept as might have been. And if Arthur's father was a soldier under Cromwell — and a Puritan, — it would not be surprising that he should have omitted having the birth of a son recorded in the books of the Established Church.

"Moreover, it is quite as likely as not that Arthur was born in some other parish to which his father, or grandfather, or other ancestor, born in the Manor house in Naunton, had gone to live.

"Arthur was a young man, not yet married, when he came to Rhode Island. He married Mary, daughter of Rev. John Brown, who was the eldest son of Rev. Chad Brown, who joined Roger Williams at Providence in 1638, and, in 1642, was ordained pastor of the First Baptist Church at Providence — the mother Church of that faith in America. The other grandfather of Arthur's wife Mary, was Rev. Obadiah Holmes, the much persecuted Baptist saint, who in his day was said to be "the best whipped man in America." With such a father and mother, and with each of her grandfathers a man so distinguished in the early history of the Baptist Church, we may feel reasonably assured that Mary Brown would never have married Arthur Aylworth unless she knew him to be a good man, a devoutly religious man, and probably himself a Baptist too. And we here today, descendants of Arthur Aylworth and Mary Brown, may well feel a pride that is legitimate in knowing that Rev. Obadiah Holmes, the "best whipped man in America," who endured the suffering of a martyr for his faith, was one of our ancestors — the grandfather of the grandmother of Job, our patriarch in Canada.

Arthur Aylworth died in 1728, leaving six sons surviving. One of the sons, Philip, inherited Arthur's Rhode Island farm, and lived his whole life on this farm. Philip left three sons him surviving, Arthur, Job and Philip. The oldest son, Arthur, took the Rhode Island farm in entail, under the will of his grandfather, Arthur, the emigrant. The other two sons, Job and Philip, came ultimately to Canada. Job, our ancestor, settled in this County of Lennox and Addington, while his brother Philip settled in Prince Edward County — west of Picton, in the Township of Hallowell.

Arthur, the older brother of Job, who inherited the Rhode Island homestead, is generally spoken of as Captain Arthur. The Rhode Island home farm, at his death, passed to his son, Arthur, and so from father to son till, in 1892, (which is the latest date of which I have personal knowledge), it was in the possession and ownership of Lyman Aylsworth, grandson of Arthur, the son of Captain Arthur, who was the grandson of Arthur, the emigrant. So that, in 1892, for six generations, and for at least 220 years, this farm, to which Arthur the emigrant came when it was part of Rhode Island's forest primeval, continued to be the home of the emigrant himself, and of his son, and of each succeeding son in turn, exactly as intended and directed by the will of Arthur when he created the entail now more than 200 years ago.

A photograph of the dwelling house of Lyman Aylsworth on this farm, as it stood in 1892, is shown on the page opposite. A short distance from the house there can still be seen a mound in which lies, partly imbedded in the ground, a large stone mantel, which, according to family tradition, formed part of the fire place in the dwelling house of Arthur the emigrant, and close by is the family burying place, on the farm, where the outlines of thirty or more distinct graves can be plainly seen. The father and mother of Lyman Aylsworth lie buried there, and there seems no doubt that the bodies of our ancestors, Arthur Aylworth and his wife Mary Brown, are also buried there, though no stone or inscription now remains to show exactly where.

"Before speaking of Job Aylworth, grandson of Arthur the emigrant, let me say that there have been in this Township of Ernesttown, four Aylsworths of the name of Job. The first Job, the emigrant into Canada, had a son named Job, and a grandson named Job, and a great grandson named Job. I will call them Job I, Job II, Job III and Job IV. Job I is the patriarch— and father of us all. Job II was his second son, Job III was the second son of Bowen and grandson of Job I, and Job IV was a grandson of Job II.

"Job Aylworth of Ernesttown, Job I, died in 1803. He was certainly then an old man, and he must have been 80 or 81 years of age. Dr. Homer, in his researches in Rhode Island, was not able to find the date of Job's birth, but he was the second son of his father Philip, and Dr. Homer states that his elder brother Captain Arthur, as he is called, died on the 18th March, 1801, in his 81st year. Captain Arthur was born, therefore, about 1720, and Job I was born, probably, about 1722.

"His grandfather, Arthur, the emigrant, was then still living. He died in 1725, and by his will, which had been made some years before, and before any of his son Philip's children were born, Arthur, the emigrant, had entailed his Rhode Island land upon Philip and Philip's sons. Mary the wife of Arthur is not mentioned in the will, which makes it seem likely that she was not then living — so that, probably, Philip, on his marriage, brought his wife to his father's house to live, as the farm was to be his under his father's will. And so, it is probable that Job I was born in the house of his grandfather, Arthur, the emigrant — his father, Philip, who was born in 1692, being then about thirty years of age. At all events we know that Job I was born in Rhode Island, and that his grandfather, Arthur, the emigrant, died when Job I was a child two or three years old. From that time Job's father, Philip, owned the emigrant's home farm, and lived on it, and on that farm Job I lived during his boyhood and until he was grown. But this farm, under the entail, passed on the death of Philip, to Philip's eldest son, Captain Arthur, and Job, as a younger son, had to make a home for himself elsewhere.

"He married, as his first wife, Sarah Clark; but the records of that date cannot now be found; at any rate Dr. Homer in his searches could not find them, and the exact date of Job's marriage to Sarah Clark cannot therefore be now ascertained.

"All that can be said about the date is that it must have been before 1760 – when Job would have been about 38 years of age, because the Rhode Island records under the date 14th January, 1762, refer to "the family" of Job Aylworth, and at that time there was no other Job Aylworth than our Job I.

Apart entirely from these records it is reasonably certain that Othniel the oldest son of Job I, must have been born before 14th January, 1762, or, at the latest, about at that date. Because Othniel had a brother named Job, who I am calling Job II, the second son of Job I, and this Job II had a grandson named Job, whom I call Job IV, and Job IV got married in 1846, and knew that his grandfather Job II died in the year following, that is, in 1847, and that he was, at his death, 84 years of age. This Job IV, who * was born in this Township, and lived here, just east of Odessa, till he was married, moved, in 1865, to Illinois, and was in communication with Dr. Homer, to whom this information was given, as Dr. Homer states in his book.

"Accordingly, Job II, if 84 in 1847, was born in 1763, and his older brother Othniel a year or more earlier at the least. Othniel died in 1821, and from all I have ever heard, I feel confident he was, at the time of his death, considerably more than sixty years of age. Job III, my grandfather, who was born in 1800, seemed always to have looked upon to his Uncle Othniel as vastly his senior, and as being much older than either his own father Bowen, or his uncle, Job II. I have heard, when I was a boy, many things told by my grandfather of what Othniel said or did, and invariably grandfather spoke of him as "Old Uncle Niel." My own belief is that he was born some years before 1760, and that the date of the marriage of Job I and Sarah Clark was before 1750 rather than later.

"The Scriptural name Othniel is sometimes spelled Othoniel, and that spelling of the word was probably in the mind of Job I when his son Othniel was named, because the name was pronounced Otho Niel, as though it were a double name. But double names were seldom given to children 175, or 140, years ago, when the children of Job I were being named, and not one of Job's twelve children had any second name. The name of his first born was Othoniel, in one word, which word is more often spelled Othniel, and I am therefore using that spelling and pronunciation. Othniel himself signed his name "Niel"; and so far as I have ever heard, was always addressed and spoken of as Niel, but his full baptismal name, I am persuaded, was the one word, Othoniel. To one of his five sons he gave the name of Niel without any second name, which may indicate that Othniel himself considered his own name a double one, Otho Niel. At any rate, he did not wish to continue the prefix Otho.

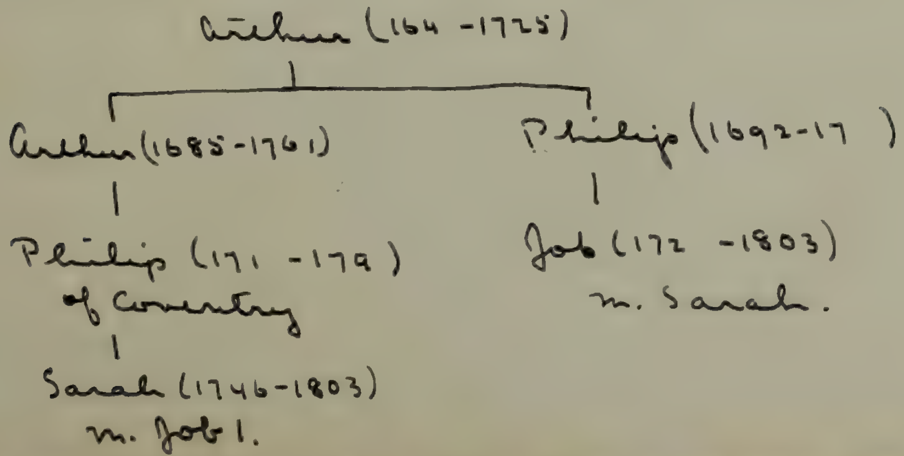
"After the death of his first wife, Sarah Clark, Job 1 married a second time, and Dr. Homer found in the town books of Coventry, R.I., an exact record of this marriage. It was solemnized on 26th March, 1765, and the second wife was Sarah Aylworth of Coventry, R.I. She was born on 11th November, 1746, so that her exact age on her wedding day was 18 years, 4 months and 15 days, while her husband, Job 1, must have been then a man of at least 42, and was a widower with two sons, the older of the two being a boy quite possibly then in the "teens," and the two sons being second cousins, by birth, to their young stepmother.

"The genealogy of Job Aylworth and of Sarah Aylworth, his second wife, is here shown,



"The young wife, Sarah Aylworth, was a daughter of Philip Aylworth of Coventry, in the County of Kent, Rhode Island, and this Philip Aylworth was a son of Arthur Aylworth who was one of the sons of Arthur the emigrant.

"In other words, Arthur the emigrant, had sons, Philip and Arthur. These sons had sons Job 1 and Philip of Coventry, who thus were first cousins of each other, and were of about equal age, and Job 1 married Sarah the daughter of his first cousin, Philip of Coventry, and they two became in the course of the next twenty-two years, father and mother of ten children, our great grandfather, Bowen, being No. 6 of the ten. So our great grandfather Bowen had his two grandfathers in Rhode Island, each named Philip Aylworth, and one of these two grandfathers was uncle of the other.

"We do not know the date of the death of either of these Philip Aylworths, but Philip, the father of Bowen's mother Sarah, was living on the 14th November, 1789, when Bowen was a boy of 11, for on that day he signed his will, being then, the will says, "old and feeble," and by the will he devised to his daughter Sarah, then in Ernesttown, and to two of her sisters, "one half of my Susquehannah lands," to be equally divided among them.

"For about eight years after his second marriage Job 1 continued to live in Rhode Island, not on the home farm of his grandfather, Arthur, the emigrant (which continued to be owned by Job's father, Philip, or by Job's brother, Captain Arthur), but on a farm of his own. The Coventry records show that in 1767, Job 1 bought, and in the following year sold, a half interest in a water power, and mill, in Coventry, and in September, 1772, he sold a farm in Coventry, which is spoken of in the deed of conveyance as "the farm on which I now live." The will of Job's brother, Captain Arthur, made in 1798, disposes of several pieces of land, and refers, in two or three places, to the lot of land "I purchased of my brother Job" and this may have been the Coventry farm on which Job I lived till 1772.

"Job's daughter, Elsie, afterwards Mrs. John Bristol, the third child of the second wife, Sarah Aylworth, was born in Rhode Island on the 10th November, 1772, two months after the sale by her father of his Coventry farm, and in the following year, 1773, Job I moved to New York State with his wife and family consisting then of five children, the oldest of them, Othniel, being then, possibly a fully grown young man. Job I bought some land in Rensselaer County (Schodack Township) east, or south-east, from Albany, in the tier of counties east of the Hudson River and which are easternmost in the State.

"Job remained in Rensselaer County fifteen years, through the years of the Revolutionary War and until 1788, and seven more children, among them the son Bowen, were born to Job and Sarah in Rensselaer County, New York.

"The twelfth, and last, child was born in 1787 and, in the same year, the daughter, Elsie, aged 15, married, in Rensselaer County, John Bristol.

"In the following year, 1788, Job with his wife and family, migrated to Canada. He was then a man of 66, his wife a woman of 42, his sons Othniel and Job II young men, each well over 21, both unmarried, and his son Bowen, a boy of 10. The married daughter, Elsie Bristol, remained for a few years in the United States, but with her husband and three children came to Ernesttown in 1793. One of Job's children died young. The other ten, six sons and four daughters, came to Ernesttown with the father and mother. One of the daughters and the three youngest of the sons died unmarried. The other three sons, Othniel, Job II and Bowen, each married and had large families. The daughter, Elsie Bristol, was the mother of eleven children. Elizabeth Briscio (Aunt Betsie) had eight, Esther Perry six, when she died at the age of 27, and Catherine Rogers, six. There were, in all, sixty-six grandchildren of Job I, all born in Ernesttown, except Elsie Bristol's three eldest, who came with their father and mother to Ernesttown to live.

"The journey of Job I and his family to Canada was necessarily slow and tedious, most of it was made on foot, and over land. Job's son Bowen in later years often spoke of his part in the work, day after day, for several weeks, being to ride one horse and lead another through the woods, each horse loaded with bundles.

"On reaching Ernesttown Job I settled on lot No. 11 in the second Concession, directly north of Bath, not more than a mile and a half inland from the waters of the Bay. Most of the farm lots in the front of the Township had then been occupied for three or four years, by the first settlers to come, and although Lot 11 in the 2nd Concession was still quite uncleared and almost completely in its state of nature, it seems not likely it could have been without any locatee or claimant when Job arrived. In all probability he bought off any claimant there was to the land. At any rate he obtained, ten years later, the Patent from the Crown granting him the farm lot. This Crown Grant bears date 31st December, 1798, and it seems remarkable that it was not till 5 years later still, 18th Oct., 1803, that the Crown Patent for Lot No. 2 in the 2nd Concession, two miles directly west of Job's lot, was issued to Robert Perry, — whose daughter Hannah was the wife of Bowen, Job Aylworth's son, — although Robert Perry and his family were among the first U. E. Loyalist contingent of pioneers to reach Ernesttown in 1784.

"For fifteen years after 1788 Job I. with his wife and family lived on Lot 11 in the 2nd Concession, working to clear the land. About 1792, the son Job II, aged 29 or 30, went back to New York State and married the girl he left behind him four years before. He returned to Ernesttown with her and in 1803 inherited his father's farm and lived on it till he sold the place, some years after his father's death. The oldest son, Othniel, did not marry till 1805, when he was at least 45 years of age and possibly was over 50.

"On 24th Oct., 1793, Esther, daughter of Job I, was married to Robert Perry, Junior, in St. John's Church, Bath, and three weeks before, on Oct 1st., 1793, the same Robert Perry Jr., and Esther Aylworth, in the same St. John's Church, Bath, signed the Marriage Register as two among five witnesses to the marriage of Dan. Pomeroy and Patience Perry "in this Church" on that day. These two marriage ceremonies, in each of which Robert Perry and Esther Aylworth took part, were among the very first to be celebrated in the old Church building, St. John's Church, Ernest Town, erected in 1793, and destroyed by fire in April, 1925. Happily the ancient records of the Church have been preserved, and they are now in the keeping of the authorities of St. George's Cathedral in Kingston.

"On 19th Jan., 1795, Elizabeth, daughter of Job I and Sarah Aylworth, was married to Norris Brisco, in the same St. John's Church, Bath, and on 21st Nov., 1797, the son Bowen, not yet 20 years of age, was married, in the same Church, to Hannah Perry, aged 16, and in the Spring of the next year (1798) Bowen and Hannah started housekeeping on Lot No. 10 in the 3rd Concession of Ernesttown. This farm has ever since been owned by descendants of Bowen and Hannah and is now the home of Mr. David F. Aylsworth, a grandson of one of the grandsons of Bowen and Hannah, and Deputy Reeve of Ernesttown.

"In those early days there were not yet trained nurses, nor even doctors, among the people, and Job I, on one occasion had to be his own surgeon. A felon of unusual malignity developed on one of his fingers, and the pain of it gave the suffering old man successive days and nights without a minute's sleep. Driven nearly frantic in consequence, Job, with one of his daughters to strike the blow, went out to the wood pile, and on the end of a log, with a chisel, and heavy wooden beetle, cut off the finger, and carried it back into the house in the other hand, with the remark as he threw it on the table, "Now, may be, I can get a little sleep."

"My grandfather, Job III, told the story of his grandfather's amputated finger to Dr. Homer in 1881, and Dr. Homer has noted it in his book.

"Of the manner of man Job I was, this incident, and the Biblical names he gave to his sons, afford some indication. He chose Biblical names rarely met with, even among the strictest of Puritan families — his first-born, Othniel — (my Strength is God) — whom the Lord raised up, a deliverer to the children of Israel, and who judged Israel, and went out to war, as recorded in two verses of the third chapter of the Book of Judges — his second son, Job — and the first born of his second marriage, Esek — not Isaac, but Esek — the name, Isaac, the son of Abraham, gave, to the well of water he had digged, as recorded in the 26th Chapter of Genesis; and the name Esek, is I think, not to be found anywhere else in the whole bible, except in this one verse. It would seem as if Job I read his Bible pretty closely.

"As far as is known, neither Job I, or his wife Sarah, was ever out of Canada after coming to Ernesttown in 1788, and never, after that date, saw again any of their Rhode Island relations, except on one occasion.

Of that occasion their son Bowen often used to speak. No doubt it seemed to him an event in his young life. His uncle, a brother of his mother, came to Ernesttown to see them, and Bowen, then a boy of 12 or 13, remembered particularly that his uncle was a Sea Captain and wore his sailor's uniform. Bowen's mother, Sarah, had four brothers, Benjamin, Philip, John and James, and Dr. Homer argues the sea Captain must have been the brother John, as (he says) the sailor could not have been either of the other three. The visit to Canada was probably after the death of Sarah's father, Philip, and about in the year 1790: very possibly it had to do with Sarah's inheritence under her father's will of a fractional interest in the "Susquehannah lands."

"In 1803 an epidemic of spotted fever came in Ernesttown. The disease would now be called cerebro-spinal meningitis, but the words "spotted fever" are apt enough as describing the spots, due to hemorrhages, which appear under the skin when the fever is at its height. Attacked by this fever, Job 5, his wife Sarah, and their two sons, Haskell aged 21, and John aged 16, died during the year 1803, and the bodies of the four were buried on a knoll, in a little grove, by the roadside, on the farm. Nearly sixty years later, in, perhaps, 1861 or 1862, widening the road and cutting away the knoll exposed to sight the decaying wood of the coffins, and possibly even some of the bones.

"Bowen, son of Job I, was then the only one of Job's children remaining alive, and he was very ill, not able to leave his house. But he had, not long before, purchased in the grounds of a then newly built Methodist Church at Violet, in the 5th Concession of Ernesttown, a burial plot for himself. And, at the instance of their grandfather, Bowen, three of his grandsons went together to farm Lot 11 in the 2nd Concession, and carefully took up the remaining bones of their great grandparents, and their two sons, and removed all to the Churchyard at Violet, where they were buried again in Bowen's family burial plot.

"No stone or monument marks the exact location of the grave in which the bones of Job I and of his wife Sarah lie buried. But they were among the first pioneers in the making of this County and of this Province. They two were the grandfather and the grandmother of our grandfathers. Ought not we, now — though they have been dead 125 years and more — to show that we, their descendants, honour and reverence their memory by erecting near their grave a fitting monument of stone?

Note:— It was unanimously resolved at the Reunion that such a monument should be erected.

This is now being done, and upon the stone there is being cut this inscription:—

D. AYLSWORTH OF NAPANEE IS DEAD

Was Relative of Sir A. B. Aylesworth — Grand Patriarch Coming

NAPANEE, Oct. 21—In poor health for several months and confined to his bed for the past three weeks the death occurred at four o'clock on Wednesday morning of David Aylsworth, in his 70th year.

The deceased, who was exceptionally well known in Napanee and in Ernestown, his former home, was the possessor of a very congenial disposition and had a wide circle of friends. He was the only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Aylsworth and was born in Ernestown Township north of the village of Bath. His father was a member of the Ontario Legislature many years ago when he was elected a member from Lennox County.

The deceased followed the same avocation as his father, that of farmer, and on retiring from the active duties of the farm, about 15 years ago with Mrs. Aylsworth and family moved to Napanee which had been their home since that time.

The deceased was a member of Trinity United Church and was a life-long Liberal. He was a relative of Sir A. B. Aylsworth, a former minister of justice in the Laurier Government and now a member of the Canadian Senate.

The funeral, which was private in character, was held from his late residence, Thomas Street, this afternoon and was conducted by Rev. H. E. Wellwood of Trinity United Church. Interment was made in Riverside Cemetery.

Besides Mrs. Aylsworth he leaves to mourn his loss two sons, D. F. Aylsworth on the old homestead, north of Bath, and Alan Aylsworth, a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, who is at home, and five daughters, Mrs. O. McLean, Toronto; Mrs. J. C. Stevenson, Port Colborne; Miss Edna in Toronto; Miss Bessie, teacher in Amherstburg, and Miss Eleanor of the West Ward teaching staff, Napanee.

Sir Allen Aylesworth

Oldest Queen's Counsel Was in Laurier Cabinet

14 Feb 1952

Canada's last titled senator, Sir Allen Bristol Aylesworth, Q.C., K.C.M.G., died yesterday at his home, 21 Walmer Rd. He was 97. He was Minister of Justice in the cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and internationally known for his legal attainments.

Sir Allen had been retired from political life for some years. Impressive in appearance, he was gifted with a ceremonial court manner and was a noted orator.

He was member of the Alaska Boundary Tribunal, which sat at The Hague and in 1910 appeared as counsel before The Hague Tribunal. Although an unsucessful candidate for the House of Commons in Durham in 1905, Sir Allen was appointed postmaster general by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

A month after the Durham defeat, Sir Allen was elected in North York. A year later he was appointed chairman of the special committee of the House to revise the Dominion election laws, and became minister of justice, succeeding Sir Charles Fitzpatrick.

Because of deafness he was not a candidate in the election of 1911. During his term in the House, Sir Allen was active in the inquiry into the state of the life insurance companies in Canada. He was largely responsible for the passing of the Lord's Day Act.

It was an occasion for surprise in 1923, when Sir Allen, who had been out of politics for some time, was summoned to the Senate. He succeeded to the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. William Proudfoot of Goderich.

In the First World War Sir Allen strongly supported Sir Wilfrid Laurier's opposition to conscription. But in 1926 he declared his intention of voting Conservative in the provincial field because he believed in government control of liquor sale as against prohibition.

Sir Allen made frequent appearances before the judicial committee of the privy council and in 1903 was appointed a member of the Alaska boundary tribunal. Canada was indignant at the award to the United States by the tribunal and Sir Allen spared no effort to prevent the acceptance of U.S. claims. For his masterly defense of Canadian territorial waters against the incursion of U.S. fishermen before the Hague tribunal in 1910, he was knighted.

Born in Addington County, he was a descendant of United Empire Loyalists. In his youth he worked on a farm. He received his education at Newburg Academy and the University of Toronto, where in 1874 he was awarded the Prince of Wales Prize.

He won his M.A. in 1875 and was called to the Ontario Bar three years later. He was created a Queen's Counsel for the province in 1889 and a year following for the Dominion of Canada. For a number of years he was a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

His independence of thought found expression in 1911, when in a speech in the House of Commons he vigorously attacked the trend he had discovered in Canada of accepting the U.S. spelling in preference to the English style. He declared Canadians too ready to adopt Americanese.

It was Sir Allen who nominated Mackenzie King to the leadership of the Liberal Party. He was Canada's representative at the funeral of King Edward VII. He was a member of the senate of the University of Toronto; a past president of the U. of T. Alumni Association, and a member of the University of Toronto Commission in 1905. Sir Allen was a member of the Masonic Order, the United Church, Toronto Club and the Rideau Club of Ottawa.

His wife, the former Augusta Miller, and a son, Featherston Aylesworth, predeceased him some years ago. Mr. Justice John Aylesworth of the Ontario Court of Appeal, is a nephew. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. S. G. Chant, Toronto; his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Featherston Aylesworth, and another nephew, McGillivray Aylesworth, Ottawa.

A private funeral service will be held here Friday. Prime Minister St. Laurent will be represented at the service by Hon. Leighton McCarthy, former Canadian Ambassador to Washington. Mr. McCarthy was a personal friend of Sir Allen and sat with him in parliament early in the century.

Arthur Aylsworth and his Descendants in America.

Bowen Aylsworth and Hannah Perry Aylsworth-Pages 92-95.
Bowen Aylsworth was born Feb. 27, 1778, probably in the town of Seoback, Rensalaer Co. N.Y., and was 10 years of age when his parents settled in Canada. He was married Nov. 21, 1797 to Hannah Perry born Aug. 3, 1781, a daughter of Robert and Jemima Washburn Perry, U. E.L's of Ernesttown, Lennox and Addington Co. Ontario. They settled on a farm 3 miles north of Bath where they lived together 66 years, his death occurring on the 66th anniversary of their wedding Nov. 21, 1863. He was a man of somewhat abrupt address, wasting few words in empty conversation, but of great equanimity of character, contented, prudent and unostentatious, hewing square to the line of settled convictions. His religious character was, in a measure, molded and stayed by the piety of his excellent wife. Among his acquaintances he was referred to as a model of industry, economy and perseverance. A long obituary notice appeared in the Christian Guardian of Toronto, Nov.30,1864. He aided in the erection of Victoria College, contributed to its endowment and was one of the supporters of the Temperance movement in Canada.
Bowen and Hannah began housekeeping May, 1, 1798, he being 20 and she 16 years of age. Her father, Robert Perry, who entertained somewhat aristocratic ideas was displeased with the marriage for a time. Howe ever a few years later he placed an outfit of furniture at her door. She declined the gift, but no doubt esteemed the generous overture as an indication of his parental approval and resumed cheerfully her place in his affections.

Robert Perry was born in Rehoboth, Mass. 1751 and was married to Jemima Washburn of Attleboro, Mass. in March, 1772 and settled in Rutland, Vt., in September of the same year. His two brothers David and Peter adhered to the Revolutionary cause while Robert was loyal to Britain and was among the New England Royalists. After a reverse in the British cause between 1777and 1778 his family and others were driven into exile in lower Canada where Hannah, David and Daniel were born. Robert Perry and family with other Loyalists were removed by the military authorities from Lower Canada(near Three Rivers, Que.) to the Bay of Quinte country about the year 1785-86 when Hannah was 4 or 5 years old. She has often related the particulars of that and other trying periods in the settlement of this part of the province. For 80 years, she, her husband, children and relatives have been identified with the domestic social, civil, political and religious progress of this part of Canada and their records would make much of its history. She remembered the voyage up the St Lawrence in the small French boats(bateaux) and the sight of the tents pitched along the shore near the place where Bath now stands. A fatigue party had preceded the main party of the settlers. She remembered the firing of the musketry by the shore party, the firing of the boat party in reply; the hearty cheers of both when they neared the shore, and the preparations made for their reception.

Hannah and the other children were baptized by the Rev. John Langhorn who came to Bath in 1787 and was the first Church of England clergyman to reside in the county. For many years he was the only representative of the church in the territory between Kingsron and the Carrying Place. In 1793 St John's Church was built in Bath.

They were glad when McCarthy, a lay preacher of Whitfield's School (Methodist) came from the U.S.. Robert Perry opened his home for services on the Sabbath. Hannah was converted at the age of 11, and joined the first class formed by Dunham. She was a member for 74 years. Her brother Robert Perry, Jr. was a travelling preacher of power in the Methodist Church, 2 other brothers, David and Daniel were local preachers, while Peter the youngest was associated with Marshall Bidwell as the representatives of Lennox and Addington 1824-1836. Another brother Ebenezer of Coburg is now a member of the Legislative Council.

Her father Robert Perry died in 1837 leaving about 300 descendants Hers number about 250 as she leaves 13 children, 103 grandchildren, and more than 90 gr-grandchildren. One of her sons is a travelling minister 3 are local preachers, others are stewards and church officers. Two grandchildren are ministers. She died at the age of 85, and was buried beside her husband in Violet Cemetery.

From biographical notice of Hannah Perry Aylsworth in Weslayan Daily Recorder, May, 28, 1869.

Note by Marie E Lowry--My grandmother Hannah Perry Davy was named after gr-gr-aunt Hannah Perry Aylsworth.

On one of gr-grandmother Polly Ham Perry's visits to Bath, she with my mother and her brother W.H.Davy Jr. drove out to spend the afternoon with Aunt Hannah Aylsworth. Mother said She (Aunt Hannah) was a very tall, plain looking woman and a very efficient housekeeper.

LONDON, ONT.

ALLERGY

Dear Doctor Burleigh:

Are you interested in Pollen Treatment Sets--at five dollars?

The results of using individual mixtures of proteins, based upon extensive skin sensitization tests, are admittedly superior to results obtained with stock sets.

However, there are patients who know from past experience that they do get excellent results with stock sets used preseasonally. These sets are ideal for such cases. Then, again, these sets can be used for those of your patients who will not spend the time or money to be tested and have the superior results of an individual mixture, but prefer to gamble on a stock set.

While perennial treatment gives better results than preseasonal treatment, these stock sets are useful for those patients who are not temperamentally adapted to taking advantage of the benefits of perennial treatment. As soon as the pollen season is over, they forget to come for injections. When warm weather reminds them that the pollen season is imminent, they hustle around to demand a hurried course of preseasonal protection.

If you wish to use these mixtures for the treatment of your Hay Fever and Pollen Asthma patients who fall into the above categories, two mixtures are available--one is designed to desensitize to the early summer pollens of the grass group (June, July)--the other covers the fall group of pollens, Ragweeds, etc. (mid-August to frost).

Each mixture is available at five dollars in either 15, 20, or 25 dose sets, whichever you may prefer. The top doses in each of the three sets are respectively 3,500, 6,000, and 10,000 units--larger than are regularly obtainable elsewhere. Material for continuation therapy is available, too, should this be desired later.

Yours very truly,

Gordon Calder M.D.

RECLAIMED FROM WILDERNESS — Four years ago the land shown in the photo above was wasteland overgrown with burdocks and scrub plum trees. Today after years of back-breaking labor the land has been reclaimed from an unruly Mother Nature and turned into a fine productive garden. The house which appears at the end of the waving row of corn was once run down from housing five families in its seven rooms. Now its pasteboard roof has been replaced with a proper one and its open verandas closed in with a glass porch. Present owner of the property and the man responsible for its improvement is Andrew Benjamin Aylsworth (left). When he took over the land, Mr. Aylsworth inherited, along with the brambles and the hard work, a mortgage amounting to $1,100. Two and a half years later, to the surprise of his skeptical friends, Mr. and Mrs. Aylsworth held a celebration at which the paid-off mortgage was burned. Now things are much better and the garden is paying them for their trouble.

Ten Projects Get Approval Of Board

TEN LOCAL improvement projects, including the construction of water mains, sewers, asphalt pavements and concrete sidewalks and entailing the expenditure of more than $65,000, have been approved by the Ontario Municipal Board.

The bylaws covering the work will be given third reading at the meeting of city council on July 30 and construction will be started almost immediately afterwards.

The city, however, is still waiting word from the municipal board on its $169,000 project to renovate and enlarge the police headquarters at the city hall. It is anticipated that this will be received any day now.

The projects approved include:

1 — The construction of a water main in the Palace Road between Brock and Johnson streets and easterly on Johnson; total cost $3,023.77.

2 — Construction of a 15-inch sewer in Fraser street from Patrick street northerly 1,080 feet; total cost $6,918.

3 — An asphalt pavement on James street between Rideau and Bagot streets; total cost $7,288.50.

4 — An asphalt pavement on Orchard street from Cataraqui to River streets; total cost $8,925.70.

5 — An asphalt pavement on Brock street from Macdonnell to Napier streets; total cast $5,986.25.

6 — An asphalt pavement on Westdale avenue from Highway 33 to existing pavement; total cost $7,658.72.

7 — An asphalt pavement on College street from Park street to Franklin Place; total cost $8,027.02.

8 — Construction of various concrete curbs; total cost $416.

9 — An asphalt pavement (a) on the Palace Road from Park street northerly 469 feet at a cost of $5,744 and (b) on Queen street from Barrie to Division streets at a cost of $12,698.

10 — A concrete sidewalk on the east side of the Palace Road north 469 feet; total cost $1,274.

Takes Over Pulpit Here

DURING the month of August the pulpit of Bethel Church will be occupied by Rev. A. G. Bentley of Toronto. The pastor, Rev. Dr. M. P. Estabrooks, with Mrs. Estabrooks and four boys will be vacationing in the Maritime Provinces. They will be the guests while away of Mrs. Estabrooks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brydges of Saint John, NB, who are this year celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary, and of Dr. Estabrooks' father, F. L. Estabrooks of Moncton, NB.

Rev. Mr. Bentley is well known in the city, having ministered here on several previous occasions. He will be taking charge of all week-night services as well as those on each Sunday, and he will also be the speaker on the weekly broadcast over Radio Station CKWS, "The Bethel Youth Hour."

Andrew Aylsworth Changes Barren Land into Lovely Garden

By Brian Hennessey, Staff Reporter

FROM ragweed to riches, agriculturally speaking. This is the story of a plot of land and of the unremitting toil which transformed it from the wilderness it was four years ago to the garden it is today.

When Andrew Benjamin Aylsworth bought the house and property at 21 Elgin street shortly after the war, the house was inhabited by five families and the 700 square yards of land stood four feet high with burdock and scrub plum bushes.

Today, the necessary havoc wrought by five families living in seven rooms has been repaired and Mother Nature has been made to change her promiscuous ways on the land.

The task has not been easy for Mr. Aylsworth and his wife. He has had literally a "tough row to hoe" and both of them have had to take all kinds of menial jobs to pay off the $1,100 mortgage which they inherited along with the decrepit dwelling and the burrs.

Despite his years—he is now 74—and the arthritis which has accompanied them, Mr. Aylsworth pitched into the land. He dug it all by hand—without the aid of animal or man — tore out the troublesome weeds and planted rows of vegetables, berries and flowers.

The efforts were rewarded. Two and a half years after they had undertaken their Herculean task, the Aylsworths held a small celebration. They called in their minister, their neighbors, and friends and, to the amazement of all the local skeptics, solemnly burnt the paid-off mortgage.

Today neat rows of lush green plants greet the eye at Elgin House—as the Aylsworths call their new home. A small garden and lawn beside the house has been fenced off and here a wooden shelter has been erected for the display of cut flowers. Canadian ensigns and Union Jacks fly from every corner, and wooden figures of comic-strip characters and Disney-like animals compete with the flowers to capture the visitor's attention. A belligerent "Popeye" stands in the cool grass, a flower growing out of his pipe.

Variety is the keynote of the Aylsworth garden. There are, for instance, six kinds of berries growing there, four kinds of corn, five varieties of string-beans as well as many strange or little known flowers and vegetables.

Among the last named are "Cosy" potatoes, a type grown from potato balls, which yield a particularly smooth-skinned and small-eyed product. There is also the "Early New Yorker" which has a red skin, and is imported to Canada from the U.S.

"They told me that kind wouldn't grow up here," Mr. Aylsworth chuckled with pride.

Although he grows in abundance the "ordinary garden variety" of fruit and vegetable — berries, currants, plums, pears, melons, tomatoes, beets, carrots, chard, rhubarb—Mr. Aylsworth also conducts something of an experimental farm.

One of his chief exhibits is a berry made up of four different species—loganberry, blackberry, and blue and red raspberry. Another is a hybrid sunflower-dahlia which blooms in many colors—including red—while retaining the sunflower shape.

Very soon now his 600 gladioli will be in bloom and these will add beauty to a garden which already includes tulips, China asters, Riga and tiger lilies, orange lilies and blossoms, and various kinds of roses as well as other varieties too numerous to mention.

Mr. Aylsworth's success isn't all due to hard work—experience counts too. For instance, a gooseberry bush he found growing in the city dump yielded two quarts of berries this year and a wild rose he found growing on the road side put forth 500 blossoms early this summer. "I also have a secret process for making vitamin B for plants," he says confidentially.

At one time an active missionary of the Holiness Federation, Mr. Aylsworth now occupies himself with his gardening and his other hobbies. In the old days he travelled by bicycle doing mission work at individual farms in the Lake Huron district.

Today, as always, the church wants younger men and Mr. Aylsworth has been retired to the inactive list. But he has enough to do with his work around home. Twice each year he has to dig his entire garden and what time he has left he spends in making souvenirs and other ornaments from wood. He is also an avid photographer and shows with pride the progressive story in pictures of the rejuvenation of his house on Elgin street.

"It pays the taxes and gives us two tons of coal each year," he says, referring to the garden, "and I think that's pretty good."

Two grandsons live with the Aylsworths on Elgin street. Both lads, now in their teens, have jobs and with what they contribute and with what Mr. Aylsworth's garden and pension bring in, they are getting along nicely.

But Mr. Aylsworth's heart is with the missions. To know that you have only to hear him speak, to see the glitter in his clear eye, and note the patriarchal cut of his flowing beard. Gardening is good but it is not the most important thing in Mr. Aylsworth's life.

Company Men Get Promotions

GERRY GWYN, who for the past few years has been assistant works manager at the Kingston works, Aluminum Company of Canada Ltd., has been appointed works manager at the Beauharnois works, company officials announced Friday.

M. G. O'Leary has been appointed assistant works manager at the local plant to succeed Mr. Gwyn, who will leave immediately to take up his new position.

North Carolina's spruce pine area supplies about 65 per cent of all the feldspar mined in the United States.

LOOKING EAST along the mile-long pipeline trough which, when completed, will supply the Royal Miltary College with water from Barriefield Miltary Camp. The 12-inch main is being laid by the Holdcroft Construction Company through three-quarters of a mile of solid rock at a cost of almost $70,000. The above picture shows the section of the trough running through Barriefield Village.

Two hours of drilling and packing, laying fuses, ripping dynamite sticks and splitting charges and the powder men were ready. They waited with baited breath while one of their number pushed down the detonating plunger.

Like a giant geyser tons of rock splattered skywards. The telephone cables rocked furiously, their wooden shields spinning around like blades on a windmill. The dust cleared. Telephone cables swayed gently. Powder men crept back to the pile of rock-rubble. They looked up, saw the cable still intact. They motioned to the steam shovel operator to complete their handiwork.

The new RMC pipeline follows a line running generally north and east from the camp, east through Barriefield Village and then cuts abruptly south toward RMC in the marsh area west of the village.

The project is part of a vast department of national defence scheme to enlarge and improve facilities in the Vimy-RMC-Barriefield area.

FALLACIES

Names of birds can be foolers. The least flycatcher is not the smallest of our flycatchers, and the common tern is uncommon in some places where other terns are common.

23 Job (3) (Philip 2, Arthur 1) m. Sarah Clark of whom nothing has been definitely ascertained as yet. The will of Elisha Clark~~e~~, of North Kingstown, made March 20, 1750, & proved April 1755, may allude to her as his daughter, Sarah Clarke, to whom he gave £200 in bills of public credit, one milch cow, and in ~~goo~~ addition a general setting out for housekeeping.

His name occurs in the town records which lead to the conclusion that he settled in Quidnesett before 1760, + his family is referred to in the records Jan. 14, 1762, under circumstances which may indicate her decease before that time, but this is only an inference.

Job Aylsworth of North Kingstown and Sarah Aylsworth of Coventry, daughter of Philip 3 (Arthur 2, Arthur 1) and his wife Elizabeth ——, on Mar 26, 1765.

~~He bought land in~~

He sold Sept. 8, 1772, "the farm on which I now live," 102 acres in Coventry £90. and probably emigrated soon after. The Aylsworth Register says: "he resided some time in Schodack, N.Y., then moved to Canada." It is the opinion of some of his descendants that he dwelt in Saratoga Co., N.Y., for a while. He entered Canada in the scarce year, 1788, and settled in Ernesttown, near Bath, where he, his wife, and three children died during the prevalence of spotted fever in 1803.

He was a man of resolute character. Having a distressing felon he removed the affected finger himself with a chisel and mallet.

24 Philip 3 (Philip 2, Arthur 1) m. July 1, 1753 Deborah (Waite) Dyer, of Exeter, widow of William Dyer, late of North Kingstown, brother of Freelove Dyer, wife of Philip's brother, Arthur Aylsworth.

Letters of administration were issued to Deborah Dyer, widow of Wm. Dyer, deceased, Oct. 9, 1749 [N.K. Rec.]. First inventory amounted to upwards of £300. Two others were afterwards presented, amount not known. In the year 1760 Barat Dyer (son of Wm. & Deborah (Waite) Dyer) desired the town council to approve of Philip Aylworth as his guardian. [N.K. Rec.]

Philip Aylworth, of North Kingstown, made to his son, Philip, Jr., a gift-deed of 200 acres of land in West Greenwich, dated Dec. 16, 1754 [W.G. Rec.] This land was south of the land of Arthur (2) Aylworth.

Philip Aylworth, of West Greenwich, & Deborah Aylworth, his wife, sold land in West Greenwich to Wm. Barker, Sept. 19. 1769. The signatures were both autographic, & the names spelled Aylworth [W. G. Rec.]

It is probable that Philip & Deborah emigrated about this time, for on the 18th day of Feb., 1772, they deeded land in West Greenwood to Judiah Aylworth. The deed says: "Philip Aylworth of New Britain Dutchess Co., N.Y.," & mentions his wife Deborah Aylworth. - - - - Her name is not signed to this deed. As near as can be learned they went to Canada about 1790 or 1791; remained in Ernesttown for a time, but crossed into Prince Edward County, where she died, probably at the house of her son Barret Dyer, advanced in years & not long after their arrival in Prince Edward County. Philip went back to Columbia Co., N.Y., but returned to Prince Edward County, where he died suddenly, when in the field at the home of his granddaughter's husband, Asa Werden. at the age of perhaps 90 years.

Deborah (Waite) had a sister, Lucretia Hopkins, who died in Rhode Island, & also three brothers, Benjamin, Samuel, & George Waite, who went to Prince Edward County after she died, & who died there, probably. By her first husband she had two children, at least, Barret & Waty, who both went to Prince Edward County. Waty died at her brother's house in middle life, but Barret lived to old age, on the south side of East Lake.

Children

67 i Caleb (4) m. Huldah Weightman.

68 ii Henry (4) m. Mary Huntley.

iii Sally (4) or Sarah, "who went with them, or with whom they went to Canada." Nothing further of her history has been found.

The author is indebted to Mrs. Elizabeth Walls, of Picton, Prince Edward Co., Ont., for some particulars contained in the above account.

179 ix Lydia Maria (5.) b. May 12, 1821; m (1) Spencer Powell; dw West Warren, Mass.

61 Job (4) (Job 3, Philip 2, Arthur 1) – returned to the States a few years after his father settled in Ernesttown, & m., in the vicinity of Albany probably, Sarah Martin. They had his father's homestead, and before the war of 1812 he went back to the States a second time, when his wife's brother, John Martin, and her two sisters and their husbands, Peter Smith & Samuel Joslyn, returned with him, but the locality the Martins came from is not certainly known. She died in 1816, & he in 1850.

Children

180 i Bowen (5) m. Sophia Vannorman; dw. near Odessa, Ont.
181 ii Martin (5) m. Margaret Ockerman; dw. Ernesttown, Ont.
iii Sarah (5) m. Elias Mills; said to have had one dau., & to have died at 17 years of age.
182 iv Green (5) b. June 1, 1800, m. Catharine Sharpe; dw. Ernesttown, Ont.
v. Joel (5.) d. young.
vi. Catharine (5) unm.; d. 1818.
183 vii Robert Perry (5) b. May, 1809; m Mary Ann Gordon; dw. Syracuse, N.Y.
184 viii Rufus (5) b. 1811, m. Mary Hawley; dw. Hinchinbrook, Ont.; P.O. Godfrey.
185 ix William Martin (5) b. May 19, 1813, m. Deborah A. Parks; dw. Bath, Ont.
x Joel (5.) unm.; dw. much at Newburg, Ont., & in its vicinity.
186 xi Elsey (5) m --- Davis; d. Kingston, Ont., 1848. She had three children, Jane, John & ——, all moved to the States.

Job (6) son of Bowen (5) & Sophia, says that Job (4) was born in the year 1768, & died in the Autumn of 1847, at the age of 84 years. The family of Job(3) Aylsworth is referred to in the town council minutes of North Kingstown. R.I., Jan. 14, 1762. If Job (4) was born in 1763, Otho Nial(4) who was older than Job(4), was born perhaps in 1761, & neither of these sons could then have been the children of Sarah Aylsworth, Job's second wife, whom he married in 1765. If the statement is correct, both Otho Nial (4) + Job(4) were the children of the first wife, Sarah Clark.

62 Ulsey(4) (Job 3, Philip 2, Arthur 1) was born in Rhode Island Nov 10, 1772, m. in Rensselaer Co., N.Y. Dec. 8, 1787, John Bristol, who was born Oct. 21, 1759, in Ulster Co., N.Y., and who was a son of Abraham Bristol, a Baptist preacher.

They lived a while, probably about five years, in Rensselaer County., but followed her parents to Canada, and settled in Ernesttown, near Bath, where he died Oct. 28, 1849, and she in 1854. A notice of her death published at the time states that she lived until her descendants numbered 219, of whom 165 were then living, two of them belonging to the fifth generation; that she had her senses to the last, & that she had been a consistent member of the Wesleyan Methodist Church for over sixty years.

In a biographical notice of John Bristol, published at the time, we are told that he experienced religion in the twenty-seventh year of his age while under the ministry of Rev. Freeborn Garrettson, and joined the M. E. Church in the United States, where he remained for seven years; that in the year 1793 he emigrated with his wife + family to Canada, where shortly after he was made a class-leader, which office he filled for forty years. His last illness was brief, being taken ill at 5 o'clock in the afternoon & dying about 11 at night.

Nov. 21, 1797, Hannah, who was b. Aug. 3, 1781, dau of Robert & Jemima (Washburn) Perry, of Ernesttown, Ont. They settled immediately on a farm 3 miles north of Bath, where they dwelt together 66 years, his death occurring upon the 66th anniversary of their wedding day, Nov. 21, 1863. She died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Lucas, in Camden.

He was a man of somewhat abrupt address, wasting few words in empty compliments, but of great equanimity of character, contented, prudent, & unostentatious, hewing square to the line of settled convictions. His religious character was, in a measure no doubt moulded and stayed by the piety of his excellent wife. Within the circle of his acquaintance he was referred to as a model of industry, economy, & perseverance. About four years previous to his death a part of one of his feet was carried away by gangrene, & the part, contrary to expectation, healed & left him comparatively well again. An extended obituary notice appeared in the "Christian Guardian" of Toronto, Nov. 30, 1864, to the establishment of which paper he contributed. He also aided in the erection of Victoria College, & afterwards contributed to its endowment, & is spoken of as one of the earliest & foremost supporters of the temperance movement in Canada.

Bowen & Hannah commenced housekeeping May 1, 1798, he being twenty, & she sixteen years of age. Her father, who entertained views somewhat aristocratic, was displeased with their marriage, & withheld from them for a time a father's sympathy, which, however, found expression a few years later in an endeavour to present her with an outfit of furniture, which he, without previous warning, placed at her door. She declined to receive the gift, but no doubt esteemed the generous overture as an indication of his parental approval, & accepted cheerfully her proper place in his affections.

Robert Perry was b. in Rehoboth, Mass, in 1751, & was married to Jemima Washburn, of Attleboro, in March, 1772, & settled in Rutland, Vt., then a new country, in September of the same year. He had two brothers, David & Peter, who adhered to the Revolutionary cause while Robert clung to Britain, & was among the New England Royalists. After a reverse in the British cause between the years 1777-79, his family & others were driven into Lower Canada, where Hannah & two of her brothers, Daniel & David, were born. Robert Perry & family, with other New England Loyalists, removed, or were removed by the military authorities, from Lower Canada to the Bay of Quinte country about the year 1785-6, when Hannah was four or five years old. Often has she in after years related the particulars of that trying period, & of later periods in the settlement of this part of the Province, with clearness & precision. For eighty years she & her husband, her children & relatives, have been identified with the domestic, social, civil, political & religious progress of this part of Canada. Their record would make up much of its history. . . . . She remembered the voyage up the Bay of

* Quinte in the small French boats & its incidents, such as the fine sight of the tents pitched upon the shore (near the place where Bath was afterwards built.) by a fatigue party that had preceded the main body of the settlers; the firing of the boat party in reply: the hearty cheers of both when they neared the shore, & the preparation made for their reception. . . . Hannah took her place, according to age, at the family christening shortly after the settlement in Ernesttown, where her father allowed the Rev. J. Langhorn to baptize all his children. . . . They were glad when a man from the United States, by the name of McCarthy, a lay preacher of the school of Whitfield, came among them. Robert Perry at once opened his house to him. Hannah was present when he was arrested, as stated in Playter's History of Methodism in Canada, in her father's house on the ~~Sunday~~ Sabbath day while preaching, by an armed man under the authority of certain military dignitaries, who did not intend that dissent should take root in Canadian soil. But how wondrously, by the prevalence of Presbyterianism & Methodism in Canada has the presentiment to which Mr. Perry gave utterance when he saw Mr. McCarthy put into a small boat & shoved off from the shore in charge of some soldiers after which he used to call "a mock trial," been fulfilled, though Mr. McCarthy's doom may never be known until the last day. "You may," said he, banish, or drown, or burn McCarthy, but God will raise up a hundred from his ashes." . . . Hannah, then about eleven years of age, was converted & joined the first class formed by Dunham in the neighborhood, & probably the second or third in the Province, as it was during the first year of his superintendency. She continued a member until her death, viz., about seventy-four years. Her oldest brother, Robert Perry, Jr., of those days became a travelling preacher of great power in the M. E. Church, & two of her brothers David & Daniel, local preachers. Another brother, the late Peter Perry, of Whitby, was associated with M. S. Bidwell, now of New York, as the celebrated representatives of Lennox & Addington from 1824 to 1836, whilst her only other brother, the Hon. E. Perry, of Cobourg, is now a member of the Legislative Council. . . . Her father, Robert Perry, when he died in 1837 left about 300 descendants. Hers must approach 250 in number. She leaves thirteen children, one hundred & three grand-children living, besides the great grandchildren, of whom there are ninety, if not more. . . .

When Lorenzo Dow visited Canada for the last time, about 36 or 37 years ago (1830-1), he preached three times in the neighborhood & was entertained by her together with about 60 others, who staid over night on the premises to hear him preach on the second day. . . . Among her children one is a travelling minister among us, & quite extensively known, three are local preachers, others stewards, &c., whilst of her grandchildren two are travelling ministers in another Methodist body in the Province. . . . Her father literally died of old age. She reached her 85th year. She was buried at the cemetery at Violet Church.
